

Put all the coins in one pile, then split off sixteen, flipping each one over as you put it in the second pile. If it was tails, you now have a heads up coin to match one of the remaining heads coins. If it was heads, it's now tails, reducing the number of heads in the first pile but not increasing it in the second.